

Korean Student Endowed Scholarship Fund

Denver Seminary is building a transformational global community in partnership with the church to equip leaders for the 21st century to think biblically, live faithfully and lead wisely for a lifetime.

In 2005, our board of trustees unanimously agreed to add Korean theologian, Dr. Sung Wook Chung, to the faculty of Denver Seminary. Not long after that, the administration strengthened our commitment to preparing Korean leaders for ministry by seeking support for the establishment of an endowed scholarship fund for Korean students. On Dr. Chung's very first day of classes, this fund was formed thanks to the generosity of an attorney who is taking classes here, and his wife.

The founders of this fund pray that many will join them by making gifts to the Korean Student Endowed Scholarship Fund so that it can grow! Dr. Chung sees this fund as "a tremendous confirmation that Denver Seminary is committed to preparing Korean leaders" and has personally committed his resources and energy to seeing it grow. Churches, alumni and friends are encouraged to give to support this fund with gifts of any size.

Today, Denver Seminary has approximately 900 students, 20 of whom are Korean students. To enable more Korean students to attend, gifts to endowed scholarship funds like this one are vital for equipping Korean church leaders. If you would like to give to the Korean Student Endowed Scholarship Fund or learn more about endowment giving opportunities through current gifts or through your estate, please contact Brian Fort at 303-762-6924 or brian.fort@denverseminary.edu.

DENVER SEMINARY
EQUIPPING LEADERS

“Many promising Korean and Korean-American students need financial help for their preparation for the Kingdom. These students have wonderful visions of spreading the gospel of grace in Christ all over the world. Your investment will help to make their dreams come true.”

-Dr. Sung Wook Chung
