Rev. Clifton McGlothlan

Robert Gelinas

Denver Seminary is building a transformational global community in partnership with the church to equip leaders for the 21st century to think biblically, live faithfully and lead wisely for a lifetime.

The Rev. Clifton McGlothlan and his wife, Josephine, demonstrated a life of servant leadership by planting and leading many rural churches in Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas and Colorado from 1914 to 1975. As staunch supporters of Denver Seminary, Clifton and Josephine were dedicated to the faithful teaching of God's Word and applying it to everyday life. Their love for the Gospel is exemplified in the many churches they planted across the American West. Rev. McGlothlan was involved with the establishment of the Conservative Baptist Association in Chicago in 1947 and was the first vice president of the organization in Colorado. The McGlothlan scholarship fund was established by the McGlothlans' children, Bertha Craft, John McGlothlan, Elena Walsh, Joy Clarke and Mary McGlothlan, who endeavor to continue their parents' legacy through the lives and ministry of today's seminary students.

The Rev. Clifton McGlothlan Endowed Scholarship Fund was established to honor his life and ministry and his wife Josephine, who served by his side. This fund provides financial assistance to incoming students who are preparing for pastoral ministry. Recipients of the award must be pursuing their Master of Divinity degree and exhibit a need for financial aid.

Today, Denver Seminary has approximately 900 students who are dedicated to studying the character of God through His Word. If you would like to give to the Rev. Clifton McGlothlan Endowed Scholarship Fund to assist students in answering the call to pastor or learn more about endowment giving opportunities through current gifts or through your estate, please contact Brian Fort at 303-762-6924 or brian.fort@denverseminary.edu.

Denver Seminary graduate and pastor, Robert Gelinas, understands the importance of studying God's Word. He has taken what he learned at Denver Seminary and preaches to thousands on a weekly basis. His passion for living out the Word of God is evident in his approach to leading Colorado Community Church.

“Scriptures are the lifeblood of the church,” he remarks.

“When they are taught well and revered and lived, they begin to permeate everything you do; they are what make everything happen. I think that it's not about knowing the Word, it's about knowing God through the Word.”
